I Wasn't Tired, Confused — Spaceman Carpenter

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP)—Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter says he did not become confused or tired during his third orbit of the earth—but was preoccupied with many tasks.

This personal account contradicted a report from an official at the Hawaii tracking station that Carpenter seemed tired, perhaps confused.

Carpenter, who is to leave today for welcoming ceremonies at his hometown of Boulder,

Colo., made these other points at a press conference Sunday:

1. Frost peeling off his capsule apparently caused the "fireflies" — or "snowflakes," as he called them — on the triple orbit of the earth last Thursday. He related how he created his own snowflakes by knocking on the sides of his spacecraft.
2. He made a mistake in leaving two control systems of the Aurora 7 on simultaneously. This depleted his fuel supply.
3. After he re-entered the earth's atmosphere, he could hear the Mercury control centre here. But he was unable to talk to the centre because his radio equipment was out of range.
4. He called his triple orbit "easy as a bus ride" and said he is "ready to go for a two weeks' orbit."
5. He said he did not know whether his 250-mile overshoot of his planned area might have been the result of failure of his retro-rockets to deliver the proper amount of braking thrust.

Road And Water Mishaps Major Weekend Killers

Road and water mishaps were the major killers during the weekend as 61 Canadians met sudden death.

All but 16 of the fatalities were counted in Ontario and Quebec in a survey by The Canadian Press from 9 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

Traffic accidents took 31 lives and drownings claimed 19. Quebec led the list with 23 dead, including 10 in traffic and five in drownings. In Ontario 14 persons died in traffic and seven were drowned.

In the small mining town of Asbestos, Que., eight persons died when a propane gas explosion ripped their house apart.

Ontario's weekend total of 22 included the death of a Toronto boy who was caught on a trestle and hit by a train. A Roman Catholic priest and his boating companion were among the drowned.

In British Columbia, four persons were drowned and one died in a traffic mishap. Alberta reported two traffic deaths and one drowning.

Saskatchewan had four fatalities — one by drowning, one in traffic, one in a train accident and a fire death. Manitoba had one traffic fatality.

Two persons were killed on New Brunswick roads and one person was drowned in Nova Scotia. Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland remained free of fatalities.

The survey does not include natural deaths, slayings, known suicides or industrial accidents.

French May Re-Try Salan

PARIS (AP) — The French government may try Secret Army chief Raoul Salan again in an effort to get him condemned to death. But it bowed today to a Supreme Court desire to study further an appeal against the death sentence of his No. 1 deputy, Edmond Jouhaud.

In Salan's case the government seeks the death penalty to help convince European terrorists in Algeria that their campaign to block independence of the North African territory is futile.

The special high tribunal which tried Salan on treason charges and gave him a life sentence on Wednesday was abolished Sunday in a move which may clear the way for a new trial.

Diplomats As Witnesses Sought In Major's Trial

OTTAWA (CP) — An Indian, Canadian diplomats and Indo-Chinese were among 15 witnesses requested today by the defence for Maj. William Allan Platt, 48, accused before a court martial of smuggling gold in the Far East.

Defence counsel R. K. Laishley said the witnesses are necessary to assure a fair trial for the major of Cobourg and Picton, Ont.

He made the application as the court resumed after a recess of more than a week. The recess was granted while the office of the judge-advocate general pondered a defence request for a commission of evidence to go to Indochina to collect sworn testimony on the spot.

Another man was Leon Mayrand, a Canadian, the chairman of the true commission, and a Madame Tolmer. She was identified previously as a woman who, on Mr. Sen's authority, was given a free ride on a plane carrying military personnel in Indochina last September.

The defence said Maj. Platt was asked to escort her to Saigon and had to conceal gold for her en route.

Police Chief Fired

MONTREAL (CP) — Cpl. Francois Ladouceur, head of the Rawdon, Que., detachment of the Provincial Police, was dismissed from the force today for allegedly supplying bullets to a man who was killed while trying to rob a bank Feb. 20 at Ste. Julie, 30 miles north of Montreal.

Cpl. Ladouceur led an eight-man police stakeout at the bank which ended in the death of the gunman, Gerard Mondor, of nearby St. Gabriel de Brandon, who was on bail at the time in connection with other robberies.

Two other gentlemen later were given jail sentences.

QPP Director - General Joseph Brunet said his investigation showed Cpl. Ladouceur had purchased the ammunition for Mondor's .303 calibre rifle.

The director-general said Cpl. Ladouceur had been tipped by an informant about the holdup plan and later obtained more bullets for the gunman when there was a chance the robbery wouldn't come off for lack of ammunition.

The case has been placed before the attorney-general's department for possible prosecution.

CAMBRIDGE, England (Reuters) — A five-year-old boy, seriously injured by a Royal Family car Friday, was visited by the Queen today.

JAIL SCENE OF WEDDING

TORONTO (CP) — A youth serving a six-month term in Don Jail was married within the walls Saturday in a ceremony "surrounded by love."

The prisoner and his bride were not identified, nor would jail officials say what crime the groom had committed.

Salvation Army chaplain Brig. Cyril G. Everett said the wedding was not only tempered with love, it was surrounded by it.

Flowers from jail governor David Douglass' garden were used for the ceremony, the first in the jail in more than 25 years.

The groom wore a suit the jail guards had borrowed for him. The bride's parents were present.

Parick Clerke, 19, Bob Polechek, 20, driver of the vehicle, and Barry Fifer, 20, all of Vernon were rushed to hospital after the truck plunged over an embankment and rolled over several times.

Young Clerke died in hospital less than three hours later. The accident occurred late Saturday night.

Polechek is described as being in "good" condition by hospital authorities this morning with minor abrasions and Fifer was released from hospital Sunday.

RCMP are investigating the cause of the mishap.

Point Of Blast Located In 45-Death Air Crash

CENTREVILLE, Iowa (AP) — A spokesman for government investigators said Sunday night they have pinpointed the place of an explosion in a Continental Airlines jet that sent 45 persons to their deaths.

A high-energy blast occurred in the right rear lavatory of the plane before it was torn apart in flight, said Edward E. Slattery, public information officer for the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation also were active Sunday in an investigation of the tragedy, in which the tail section of the airliner separated and the main fuselage landed in a farm yard in nearby Missouri.

Experts of the Civil Aeronautics Board have been reconstructing wreckage of the Boeing 707 at the county fairgrounds here.

Slattery said work on the mockup so far made clear the spot where the explosion occurred. He did not go into detail, but said the type of explosive set off could have been dynamite.

In this connection federal agents at Los Angeles said they were trying to find out whether there was any possible link between the theft May 16 of 350 sticks of dynamite there and the jet crash.

The airliner went down on the night of May 22.

BC 'Jelly Bowl' Highway May Be Reopened Today

TERRACE, B.C. (CP) — A miles away, he said the earth temporary gravel road delouring a giant mud slide, which swallowed up a mile of the Kitimat-Terrace highway, was expected to be open today.

An eyewitness said the slide moved like "a bowl of stiff jelly." Norman Usher told of looking down into crevasses where it seemed "as if you were looking down into eternity."

Mr. Usher and his wife were driving along the road Friday when a massive upheaval sent tons of mud and rock across the highway. Five cars, bulldozers, several other earth-moving machines and a grader were buried. A logging truck was twisted out of shape and a private auto was flattened.

Mr. Usher said he is not sure how he escaped. Heading towards Terrace from Kitimat, 48

Broken Oar Gives Clue To Tragedy In Canyon

LYTTON, B.C. (CP) — Three men are missing and presumed drowned following an attempt to shoot rapids on a treacherous and turbulent mountain river in a kayak.

Missing are Owen Mason, 42, eddy and another hung up in a Kerst Kulkema, 31, both of Vancouver, and Guy Brooks, 33, of North Vancouver.

No trace has been found of the trio but the wreckage of their collapsible craft and two broken oars were found by searchers in Francis Lake, 25 miles south of here in a mountainous area 90 miles northeast of Vancouver.

A fourth member of the expedition, Bruce Buckley, about 20, waited downstream on the Nahatlach River to take photographs of the exploit.

When a broken oar floated by, he drove out to nearby North Bend to get help.

Ray Washstock, who had talked to the group earlier in the day, said Buckley was unable to give a coherent account of the adventure.

"When they drove by in the morning, they stopped and asked directions," said Washstock. "They did not appear to have any experience in whitewater boating."

"He hiked up the river and found one broken oar in a back

US 'Copters Bring Aid To Hard Pressed Laotians

VIENTIANE (Reuters) — United States helicopters moved Laotian government reinforcements to Houei Sai today in the face of continued pressure by the pro-Communist Pathet Lao in northwestern Laos, U.S. military sources said.

The move came after the rebel guerrillas overran a strategic outpost nine miles from Houei Sai on the road to Nam Tha. It was not known if the attackers still held the outpost, but the sources said no contact had been made since Sunday night.

There are about 300 Laotian soldiers and from six to 12 U.S. military advisers in outposts around the village.

Gen. Reuben Tucker, U.S. military assistance advisory group chief in Laos, left today to examine the Houei Sai situation.

U.S. sources here denied Sunday reports that the southern Laotian provincial capital of Saravane was under attack.

They said pro-Communist Pathet Lao troops were about 15 miles from the town, but not in force. Unconfirmed reports said the town had fallen to the rebels.

Vice - Premier Gen. Phoumi Nosavan of Laos, the strongman of the right-wing government, and Laos' pro-Western premier, Prince Boun Oum, left for a three-day goodwill visit to the Philippines.

Killer Storm Rampages Through Texas Panhandle

PERRYTON, Tex. (AP) — Tornadoes and violent thunderstorms, prowling Texas with scarcely a lull, ripped through a rural area in the Panhandle and injured 13 persons Sunday.

It was the third straight day of destructive weather in Texas. Storms have claimed one life and inflicted crop and property damage in the millions of dollars.

Residents of McMullen, 17 miles south of Perryton, spotted three funnel clouds as the twisters battered an area one mile wide and five miles long.

Although at least half a dozen homes were smashed, none of the injured was in serious condition.

One funnel snatched up an automobile carrying four persons and hurled it back to earth. The occupants escaped with scratches.

Two tornadoes were sighted near Booker, 17 miles northeast of Perryton, and at least one touched ground. There was no report of injuries there.

Survivors Sighted

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Dover Air Force Base announced today that a life raft had been sighted by the United States Coast Guard in the Atlantic Ocean off New Jersey with several men aboard.

Two coast guard cutters were en route to the area.

Forest District Leads The Way In Fire Total

Due to lower hazard conditions, fire fighting costs to date in B.C. are $12,600 less than at the same time last year, according to the B.C. Forest Service's weekly forest fire report.

In the Kamloops forest district, of which Kelowna and district is a part, there have been 73 fires to date, six during last week, fought at an estimated cost of $2,100.

In 1961 for the corresponding period, 86 fires were fought at a cost of $4,900 in the district.

Still, the Kamloops district, so far this year, leads in the number of fires and amount of cost.

Low to moderate hazard conditions are expected to continue through the coming week. Showers are expected in many localities in company with lower than average temperatures.

CHILDREN SAY THE FUNNIEST

An unnamed small boy, riding his bicycle along Abbott Street on Sunday afternoon, uttered what seemed to be the understatement of the year to a passing motorist.

The lad, about 10 years of age, struck a small dog which had dashed in front of his bike, sending the boy head first over the handlebars.

Picking himself up, apparently unhurt, the lad gazed at the motorist, who had stopped to assist what seemed to be a serious accident, and stated: "If I find out I hit that dog I'll get heck. I just got a lickin' for hittin' the cat."

MUSICALLY SPEAKING

With BETHEL STEELE

At the moment, after a week of "Festival", this column is at the point of asking... "Is it worth the effort and are those who are against Festivals right or wrong in their thinking?"

As the adjudicators said last week... "This is an amazing festival, we never know what you are going to pull out of the hat next."

Many wonderful things did happen to make it all worthwhile, such as the Bach unaccompanied string playing concerning which Mr. Isaacs stated he had never been at a festival before where Bach unaccompanied Cello was played.

Marking, this year, was very stiff. For the first time there were classes in which the standard was so poor that marks were either withheld or not given. Conversely, there were higher marks awarded for some choral and instrumental performances.

The greatest achievement is that of the Kamloops' Senior High Girls' Glee Club mark of 90 and 92 to put in line for the George S. Mathieson Trophy. This trophy is awarded for the best performance in Canada by any junior choir 19 years or under at any festival affiliated with the Federation of Canadian Music Festivals.

Our own Kelowna High School mixed choir missed a chance at the Lincoln Trophy, also all Canada, because its singing of the Bach was not up to the standard of 90 marks for "Colleen, Sweet One, Colleen Fair."

In awarding the Harold D. Somerford scholarship for the most promising dancer, the adjudicator, Mrs. Jean Simpson, stated that the senior dancers were well on their way and in order to encourage younger dancers she was giving this scholarship to a very fine little dancer in the under 11 class, Elizabeth Sudgen of Vernon.

This little girl has a beautiful style all her own and is already well on the way to becoming a ballerina.

Perhaps the awarding of scholarships in general should be considered from the standpoint of standards. This column contends that the Valley Festival Committees should set a mark of 85 as the minimum. Some awards were made this year for marks below this figure. In some cases these same students received marks below 80 in other classes in which they participated.

In such a situation, teachers and students are apt to take the attitude that anything goes as long as the required classes are won no matter what the mark. We would do well to cancel the various awards in cases where a high standard of performance is not reached.

This year the School's Band playdown was handled properly. These classes are for adjudication only. Marks were not given and the adjudication sheets for the performances reached the teachers as designated.

The adjudicator, Mr. Elliot Weisgarber of the University of B.C. praised the some 1000 students for making music for music's sake. He stated that he was interested only in how the bands sounded and in the music they played. And marks should never be given for these classes because each band had a different set of problems and a different standard of difficulty in the music performed.

He asked the bands to play good band music wherever possible as well as the wonderful transcriptions of the standard symphonic repertoire.

Mr. Weisgarber considered the Salmon Arm High School Band under Mr. H. T. Elford the best in the senior section. The Kelowna Jr. High Band under Mr. A. L. Knodel tied with the Kamloops Jr. High Band in the junior section.

In an interview Mr. Weisgarber expressed the wish that the valley music program start in the Elementary systems since the Secondary program is now so well established.

When asked about standards the adjudicators were unanimous in stating that with a few outstanding exceptions the main fault was in the fact that teachers were teaching the instrument instead of teaching "MUSIC"; and that this was the case everywhere.

VALLEY FIREMEN WATCH LADDER TRUCK IN ACTION AT FIRE COLLEGE HERE.

KELOWNA HOSTS 120 CHIEFS, MEN

Brigades Have Busy Day At Valley Fire College

More than 120 chiefs and firemen from the border as far as North Kamloops were kept on the go here Sunday when they attended the Okanagan Valley Fire College.

Registration was at 9:30 a.m. at Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade hall where the truck boys were converted into a classroom for a workshop and panel discussion. Winfield and Rutland fire departments under Chief Crooks and Chief Norton would respectively demonstrate their brigades' technique in a hose-laying demonstration in front of the fire hall.

Oliver's fire department also did a hose-lay.

Later Vernon training officer Ken Little commended the brigades for the demonstrations, emphasizing that speed and efficiency as well as the maximum safety measures were necessary.

FIERY SHOW
The entire "class" moved down to the north end CPR property to watch an exciting demonstration of the dangers of propane gas put on by the Rock Gas company.

Two huge metal tanks of the gas were heated by a packing box fire and with a sudden whoosh! sent jets of fierce flame streaming across the ground. Kelowna firemen showed how the fire could be quelled by wetting down the cylinders.

This show was particularly of interest to brigades in outlying areas which don't have natural gas.

Kelowna Chief Charles Pettman told the men they should first understand the propane and its dangers and then have a healthy respect for it. Dave Kinney of the company here did the lighting while the rest kept a healthy distance.

SNOKE DRILL
Back at the fire hall, the men used the old Chapman barn for a practice run with the air paces, sort of an above-water SCUBA. Kelowna firemen filled the building with dense grey smoke and placed fire-fighting equipment at various points inside.

Then they called for volunteers to don the breathing equipment and go inside to recover the articles, after showing them how to use it. Only a few of the departments have the equipment at the present time.

Kelowna also demonstrated its home-made hose system which jetted huge fan-shaped sprays of water over the Chapman building. The system, made from old couplings is used to keep buildings near a fire, wetted down.

OYAMA NEXT
At the conclusion of the day, after enthusiastic reception of the Fire College idea was voiced, Oyama offered the use of its facilities for the next one which will be held around the beginning of November.

H. W. Byatt of the fire district said it would be a good idea for a smaller community to act as hosts for the College since only a few had the up-to-date and extensive equipment Kelowna, Vernon and Penticton has.

NORTH INTERESTED
Interested observers were Fire Chief Mike Murphy of Tranquille and Chief Frank Fayers of North Kamloops. Chief Murphy said they were trying to interest their municipalities in a mutual aid program such as the Valley's.

Young City Musician Chosen To Attend Stratford Event

Murray Hill, a Kelowna Senior High School student and violinist, has been awarded a scholarship which will enable him to attend the Stratford Festival along with 17 other candidates in the province.

The scholarship provides free transportation, living expenses and tickets for four days attendance at the Ontario Festival starting July 31.

AWARDS DAY SET
Kelowna Senior High School Awards Day ceremonies are set for June 8 at the school's gymnasium. Grades 10 and 11 will take part at 2 p.m. with Grades 12 and 13 receiving their awards at 7:30 p.m.

YMCA GRANT MADE
VANCOUVER (CP) — The Leon and Thelma Koerner Foundation has made a $1,450 grant to the Central YMCA for a special project aimed at helping high school graduates find jobs.

Murray was one of two picked from District four which includes Vernon, Kelowna, Armstrong, Enderby, Salmon Arm, Revelstoke, Kamloops, Merritt, Birch Island and Barriere.

He will travel by train to the affair.

A grade 12 student, Murray has studied the violin for seven years and has been a pupil of Mr. Willem Bertsch during the past four years.

Murray is concert master of the Okanagan Valley Symphony. He is also concert master of the Kelowna High School Symphony Orchestra and plays first violin for a string group at the high school.

He held the Howard Wall Cup for Violin classes for four years in competition in the Okanagan Valley Music Festival.

He was concert master for the orchestra in the high school production "Belle of Baghdad" and substituted as a concert master in the Kamloops production of "Wizard of Oz".

The Valley group also advocated more adequate provisions under the Act regarding detention homes. They submitted that many communities have failed to establish homes because of the expense involved and suggested the federal government might more clearly indicate its direction and also accept responsibility of maintaining and administering these homes.

It was also suggested that the smaller, more locally centered juvenile detention homes was of more value than the large institution.

The committee also raised the question of the term "juvenile delinquent" which it said caused considerable confusion and discrepancy because it was applied to every child which appeared in juvenile court. Members felt there was a big difference between a boy charged with failing to have proper lights on his bike and one who was charged with a more serious section of the Criminal Code.

It was also proposed that a triple division be made in the courts: one for juveniles up to 16; one for juveniles from 16 to 21; and one for juveniles from 21 to 25.

One member of the committee said "We are not dealing with a hardened criminal but with the future of an individual who some day may be valuable in society. The magistrate should not be alone in the decision. It was also emphasized that the RCMP be given special training in the handling of juveniles.

QUALIFIED MAGISTRATES
Much concern was expressed over magistrates' qualifications. It was recommended the magistrate in juvenile courts have legal background and understanding of youth as well as having an outstanding character.

City Man Acquitted On Forgery Charge

In county court this morning, Joseph Mathew Schuck of Kelowna was found not guilty of a charge of forgery.

The charge arose over the cashing of a veterans' allowance cheque at a Kelowna food store last July.

In handing down his decision, Judge Gordon Lindsay said, "In my view, the evidence fails to implicate the accused. The only direct evidence was that of Sgt. Anton Zitzelsberger of the RCMP's Regina crime lab who identified handwriting on the cheque as that of Schuck's."

Judge Lindsay pointed out that no one shall be convicted on evidence of only one person unless it is corroborated.

Schuck was defended by Kelowna lawyer C. Warren Wilkinson.

TO MUCH LOAD
In Magistrate's Court, Nicholas Hush of Rutland was fined $50 and costs for an overweight load. He claimed the inspector at the weigh scales was adjusting the scales but Cpl. Sam Hobbs pointed out his equipment was 7,000 pounds over the limit.

NO INSURANCE
Larry P. Stoltz was fined $15 and costs for driving without insurance. He pleaded guilty. The charge arose after a minor accident resulting in $125 damage.

CAR STOLEN
RCMP are investigating the theft of a 1961 station wagon being stored at 808 Bernard Ave. The report was made at 1:30 a.m. Sunday and the car was later recovered in the Mission. Police said it had been apparently rolled with a resultant $1,000 damage.

Legion To Build Holiday Cabins

Five of ten Royal Canadian Legion branches have indicated they will build summer cabins for use as holiday spots for senior Legion members at the Chardom Lake, between Enderby and Salmon Arm.

North Okanagan Zone Commander, Percy Maundrell of Kelowna, announced today, the Royal Canadian Legion zone had purchased 160 acres with 900 feet of lake frontage for establishment of Chardom Lake Veterans' Holiday Camp, and that the development of the camp, besides a cabin by each Legion branch, will eventually include sites for members' summer cabins allocated by the zone project committee.

In the North Okanagan zone are branches from Kelowna, Revelstoke, Seamouth, Salmon Arm, Enderby, Armstrong, Lumby, Vernon, Falkland and Oyama.

Each branch subscribed monies for purchase of the land which has now been finalized. The five branches, in addition, are correlating plans through the zone committee for the cabins which will be ready for use by mid-summer.

A similar project at White Rock, sponsored by the New Westminster Royal Canadian Legion branch, provides seaside holiday facilities for senior Legion members there.

Zone Commander Maundrell said today, it may be possible, when the Chardom Lake project is completed, to arrange exchange holidays between the White Rock and Chardom Lake camps for senior veterans.

Cabins will be modern and fully equipped. Committee chairman for the N. Okanagan zone is Deputy Zone Commander Frank Smith of Seamouth. Two delegates from each member branch serve on the committee.

O. L. JONES SAYS

NDP Approach Different In Social Security Plan

The New Democratic Party's approach to social security is fundamentally different from the approach of other Canadian political parties, said New Democratic Party Candidate O. L. Jones, speaking to a public meeting in Oliver.

"Conservative, Liberals and Socialists concede that there is a place for social assistance in the Canadian economy, but they still tend to put social security under the stigma of charity."

Social security in Canada is an uncoordinated patchwork of inadequate minimum standards, largely because social security in this country has evolved politically rather than as a systematic attempt to solve social problems."

He said there is "no denying" that social welfare payments have increased since 1957 under the Conservative Government. "Some of this increase has been caused by higher old age pensions and a national hospitalization plan. It should be noted, however that a large part of the increase is a result of 120 per cent increase in payments out of the unemployment insurance fund."

NO PRIDE
Unemployment insurance payments have risen from $231 Million in 1957 to $514 Million in 1961. It is difficult to take pride in an increase in social security payments when the increase is largely dependent upon large numbers of our people being without jobs. Besides meeting important social needs, social security would help to stabilize our economy."

Mr. Jones said that back in the days when "we had almost no social security at all," there was a tendency for any slowdown in economic activity to develop into a full scale depression.

"When business slackened, men were laid off and left without income. This made economic conditions still worse with less business and consequently more layoffs. Economic activity tumbled downward indefinitely because there was no floor under purchasing power."

He said social security helps to provide a floor below which purchasing power will not fall. "Unemployment insurance payments, old age pensions family allowances and other social security measures enable unemployed families to maintain a minimal level of purchasing power."

Indeed if it had not been for social security, some of the recessions we have experienced since the war might have grown into a major depression," said Mr. Jones.

A New Democratic Party government, said Mr. Jones, would plan full use of the social security system as an economic stabilizer in the development of planned economy for full production and full employment.

Naturalists Make Tour Of Shannon Lake Area

Ideal weather revealed the Okanagan at its best for the Naturalists Club field trip Sunday afternoon.

A party of 25, including guests from Vernon and Summerland, enjoyed a walk around Shannon Lake, near Westbank, where botanists discovered a surprising variety of wildflowers.

These included almost every color of the spectrum, from the intense red of gilia to the deep blue of wild larkspur.

The challenge of identifying many new species was met by members armed with Field Guides and perseverance.

The highlight of the afternoon was the discovery of a few patches of the Sand Rose, or men quickly departed.

HIKE ENLIVENED
The hike was enlivened by the sudden addition of a large bull snake that seemed to sense that its presence was unwelcome.

In spite of the efforts by some of the club members to make first hand observations of snake behaviour, the four-foot specimen quickly departed.

Jasper also placed third in the obedience trials with a score of 186½ out of a possible 200.

Valley Committee Asks For Delinquent Age Limit

In a preliminary brief on juvenile delinquency, Kelowna, Penticton, and Vernon youth councils and John Howard Society branches asked a federal committee to consider settling the age limit of a delinquent at 18 years of age in all provinces.

Appearing at the hearing in Penticton this weekend were Magistrate D. M. White from Kelowna, probation officer Lloyd Plaple and special school counsellor Jean Wilton.

The probe into the Juvenile Delinquency Act is the result of a Royal Commission which has been called by Justice Minister J. D. Davie Fulton.

The Valley group also advocated more adequate provisions under the Act regarding detention homes. They submitted that many communities have failed to establish homes because of the expense involved and suggested the federal government might more clearly indicate its direction and also accept responsibility of maintaining and administering these homes.

It was also suggested that the smaller, more locally centered juvenile detention homes was of more value than the large institution.

The committee also raised the question of the term "juvenile delinquent" which it said caused considerable confusion and discrepancy because it was applied to every child which appeared in juvenile court. Members felt there was a big difference between a boy charged with failing to have proper lights on his bike and one who was charged with a more serious section of the Criminal Code.

It was also proposed that a triple division be made in the courts: one for juveniles up to 16; one for juveniles from 16 to 21; and one for juveniles from 21 to 25.

One member of the committee said "We are not dealing with a hardened criminal but with the future of an individual who some day may be valuable in society. The magistrate should not be alone in the decision. It was also emphasized that the RCMP be given special training in the handling of juveniles.

QUALIFIED MAGISTRATES
Much concern was expressed over magistrates' qualifications. It was recommended the magistrate in juvenile courts have legal background and understanding of youth as well as having an outstanding character.

Cultural Organization's Activities Deserve Support

This week the Kelowna Art Exhibit Society is commencing its second drive for membership. The first natural reaction to this for many is the question "Why should I belong to such an organization?" However, if a little thought is given to the question, there are several good and convincing answers.

It has been generally acknowledged in recent years that this country is lacking in a cultural atmosphere of its own; that Canadians as a people do not appreciate art, music, drama, good literature and other branches of culture which can be most rewarding to the individual. Royal commissions have made this point on several occasions and scarcely a week goes by without some authoritative source re-echoing this same point.

The Kelowna Art Exhibit Society is one effort on the local level working to correct this situation. There are many people in this area who like to express themselves on canvas, but there are many, many more who like pictures for their own sake. During the past six years the art exhibit society has given these people much pleasure. Those people, at least who have visited the society's showings in the public library. Last year alone there were 24 such exhibitions of fine and unusual paintings and objects of art.

The success of their exhibitions has persuaded the society that there is a large public demand for its services. An enlarged membership will enable to add to the size, quality and number of exhibitions and will make it possible to undertake other worthwhile activities to enrich our community life.

Last year membership in the society increased from 65 to 282 adults and 137 junior members. The membership fee — $1.00 — of these people enables the society to present to the public 24 different exhibitions. However, admission to the exhibitions was not confined to members; they are free to all residents of Kelowna whether they are members of the society or not.

The society has also endeavored to encourage local artists by arranging for showings of their work. But, on the other hand, the society has been responsible for the bringing to Kelowna of some of the treasures of the ages, providing employment and inspiration for our citizens.

All these things suggest the society is performing an invaluable function in Kelowna in providing our citizens with an opportunity to see and to admire and to study, to receive encouragement and inspiration from art objects to which normally they would have no access.

This prompts the question: What does membership in the Kelowna Art Exhibit Society mean? The answer is simple. No work is involved. The fee is small, nominal, in fact. Small as the fee is — $1.00 — membership is rewarding. It will assist the society to bring here for our enjoyment more exhibits and exhibits of greater size and quality. Your dollar is an investment returning great dividends to you and your fellow citizens. The membership drive of the society deserves to be supported — by each one of us.

Attendance at the society's 24 showings of art at the membership fee of $1.00 works out roughly at 4 cents a showing. "Lives there the man with soul so dead" that he would not get 4 cents worth out of an art exhibit?

Carpenter's Flight

The United States has put its second man into orbit and brought him back safely. This second attempt opens the prospect for further more ambitious space attempts. It is demonstrated that the first flight was no mere fluke, no mere lucky break. Man can now put man into orbit and bring him back alive. Probably after a third short run, a manned capsule will be sent up to circle the earth ten, twenty, thirty times. And after that, the moon.

These are exciting days in which we live. The world we know today was not even in the dreams of our forefathers of even a scant fifty years ago. Another fifty years will see an even greater change than that of the past half century.

The problems involved in such a single incident as the Carpenter flight are so numerous and so complicated as to be far beyond the comprehension of the individual. This was emphasized by the numerous things that did not quite function properly. The very fact that this and that went wrong made the general public more aware of the complexity of the operation.

Beyond the success of the project itself and the safety of the astronaut, probably the most interesting and perhaps most important facet was the completely unrestricted participation of the whole world in the trial. Literally the world watched and listened. Its peoples shared the thrills, the disappointments, the concern, the anxieties, the satisfaction and the jubilation of those closely connected with the project.

The United States placed itself on exhibition. It invited the world to watch it make this long-planned effort. It ran the risk of having the world watch its failure and that took courage. Even a Soviet observer was present at the launching site.

The United States, we think, should be congratulated on its successful Carpenter flight, but even more so we think it should be congratulated in letting the world freely look on. This is in sharp contrast to the Soviet thinking which permits no news of such an enterprise until it is accomplished — and only then if it has been successful.

The United States undoubtedly boosted its prestige throughout the world. It did so not only through the success of the project but by the fact that it was not afraid to permit the world to watch its attempt — whether a success or a failure.

Comparisons Are Difficult

By FARMER TISSINGTON
Parliamentary Correspondent for Thomson Newspapers

With the current election campaign in full swing, the issue of unemployment is being hotly debated across the land. For a look at some of the facts, figures and political implications of the problem, our Ottawa correspondent, Farmer Tisington, has written a three-part series. The second part follows.

— Ed. Note.

OTTAWA (Special) — Despite the best efforts of governments and the promises of political parties, there is considerable evidence that a fairly high rate of unemployment is likely to be a factor of Canadian economic life for some time to come.

One of the more recent developments contributing to this condition is automation. Not long ago an Ontario government official predicted that, in the next decade, some four out of five industrial workers would lose their jobs because of automation. While many others don't agree with this frightening prospect, there is no doubt that modern production methods will continue to put men out of work.

In the past 10 years, Canadian motor car production has gone up almost 50 percent while employment in that industry rose only 11 percent. In motor car parts, production has risen about 20 percent and employment about 6.8 percent. Some 30 percent more electrical apparatus is now produced with a 40 percent increase in workers employed. Household appliances tell the same story. Production up over 50 percent, employment up about 20 percent.

COMPARE WITH OTHERS

How does Canada compare with other countries in unemployment? The answer is not easy to determine because of the different yardsticks used to measure unemployment. Walter Fitman, NDP member of the last parliament, says that Australia has shown great concern about its unemployment although its figures showed only 2.3 percent of its labor force out of work. Labor minister Michael Starr declares that only Canada, the United States and Japan can properly be compared, as all three use the same measuring devices.

But there is no agreement between parties about Canada's closest neighbor, The Conservatives say the U.S.A. has been following Canada's lead in several steps to combat unemployment. They also argue that the U.S. takes a more realistic view about the problem and don't try to make it such a political issue, as is the case here. Liberal Paul Martin argues that President Kennedy has been much more aggressive in tackling the U.S. unemployment problem than has the Conservative government in trying to meet Canada's difficulties.

Prime minister Diefenbaker has pointed out that Canada's average unemployment is generally lower, in percentage terms than in the United States. And, he says, this is achieved despite the fact that many more men are called into the armed services in the U.S. than in Canada.

Defence becomes involved in the Canadian picture, too. According to the opposition parties, the government's much-heralded survival courses, held by militia units across Canada this past winter, were designed largely to help make a better unemployment showing. They had little real relationship to training people for survival in a nuclear war, is the claim.

Statistics about which country has the best record are cold comfort for the Canadian man who wants to work but can't find a job he can perform. And opposition parties are doing their best to make this one of the major campaign issues. In reply, the Conservatives brand the Liberals as the "doom and gloom boys."

OTTAWA REPORT

Tulips Here Pips There

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
"Tulip time in Ottawa" has come of age. With this tenth annual Tulip festival drawing larger crowds than ever, Canada's capital has established the tradition of its rivalry with Washington's cherry blossom show and with the chestnut blooms of Paris in the spring.

The many coloured masses of a million tulips blooming along Ottawa's scenic drive-ways and on Parliament Hill were augmented by a million daffodils, and backed by the spectacular and strongly-scented lilac blossoms. This year, for the first time, beauty queens of the civil service offered themselves during the Victoria Day holiday weekend to pose among the tulips for visiting camera enthusiasts. While a giant fireworks display climaxed the holiday, other events of the two week tulip festival included an all-nations floral show at the coliseum, a big square dance, bands, choral singing — and everywhere and all the time the snap, snap, snap of the photo fans.

REMEMBER THE WAR

The origin of this annual glorification of the imported persian flower is a little piece of history, of which Canada may justly be proud. It recalls the sanctuary which Ottawa accorded Juliana, princess of the Netherlands, and to her young family, when the Nazi hordes swarmed over her country 22 years ago. As a "thank you" gift to Ottawa, Juliana has each year been sending many thousands of prize tulip bulbs from the famed Dutch gardens to her Ottawa home and children's playground.

This is quite a gift, impressive in size as it is beautiful in colour. There are huge display beds with 35,000 blooms splashing Parliament Hill with colour; but perhaps the biggest tulip bed in North America, if not the world, is that now flanking Ottawa's Dow Lake, on the Rideau Canal, where over 110,000 blooms sway and smile atop their long stalks.

The record-breaking heat-wave which settled over Ottawa just before and during the holiday weekend shortened the life of the 1962 tulip blossoms. The bulbs are attuned to the average temperatures of 65 degrees which prevail in the early Dutch summer; but the young blooms faced five days of blazing sun and parched earth when the temperature rose 25 degrees above the normal for Holland and Ottawa at this time of year.

KING AND QUEEN

"While the beautiful Darwin 'Red Emperor' ruled among the rainbow-coloured sea of blooms as king of tulip time in Ottawa, the civil service held its annual competition to select its own beauty queen. Each of the thirty-three departments or agencies of government in Ottawa selected its own contestant, and from among these an independent panel selected 'Miss Civil Service 1962'.

The crown was awarded to a beauty who, like the Red Emperor tulip, is an immigrant charmer and not a native-born Canadian. Betty Gittens, who works with the department of transport, is a 23 year old wife and mother. Three years ago she won the title of 'Miss Barbados' in her West Indian home. Her husband, Rudy Gittens, graduated in pharmacy from the University of Saskatchewan, and is now a pre-medical student at Ottawa University. He too comes from the West Indies. Mrs. Gittens is the first married woman and the first coloured girl to capture the civil service crown. Men may be interested to learn that her vital statistics are 34-23-36; women may be more interested in her height — 5 feet 8 inches — and her weight — 135 pounds.

The Beauty and the Blooms fit together because the first official appearance of the former was at the opening of the festival of the latter, when she was presented with a bunch of prize tulips by Mr. Edwin Haskett; he was president of the sponsoring Ottawa board of Trade when the tulip festival was launched in 1953, but today he is Ontario's minister of reform institutions.

UNITED KINGDOM REPORT

Crime Victims' Compensation

By MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.)
Correspondent
For The Daily Courier

LONDON — For the past two or three years there has been a considerable agitation in Britain for the establishment of a plan whereby state financial assistance would be made available to the victims of violent crimes. There have been many instances of people being seriously injured and disabled so that they were unable to resume their former occupations and lost their earning power. While the criminal may have been convicted and given appropriate sentence, the fact remained that their victims had suffered grievous financial losses for which they had no redress and no means of compensation.

From time to time various schemes to provide such compensation have been suggested to Home Secretary R.A. Butler, who indicated that he was sympathetic to the idea, but that it would be difficult to set up a scheme which would operate equitably.

PROVIDE FLOAT FUND
Now it is expected that in the near future Mr. Butler will announce that a plan to provide state aid to the victims of crimes of violence is to be established. He is giving consideration to a plan which would set up a special government fund with a float of $4,500,000 to be used for this purpose. The fund would be replenished from time to time as it became depleted by payments to beneficiaries.

First indication that such a fund is likely came from the new Solicitor-General, Sir John Hobson. He has for some time been working out the details of the scheme, and in reply to a direct question, he said that he hoped that something will soon be done.

RIGHT TO SUE
Under this plan, I understand, the compensation "kitty" would be held under the control of the Home Office. Claims against it would be sent direct to Whitehall, where they would be sifted by a panel of experts.

One of the key points in the plan is that claimants would have the right to sue the Home Office if they felt that they had not received a square deal over the compensation awarded, or if their claims had been rejected.

Legislation covering the plan is likely to be introduced at the fall session of parliament, but its progress will depend on the time available for its discussion. If Britain joins the Common Market, a mass of new laws covering this will have to be rusted through, so the compensation bill may have to be side-tracked for a time. This would explain Sir John Hobson's reluctance to be positive as to timing.

But the fact that the government has agreed to this measure is regarded as a personal victory for Sir John. Last year he had a private member's bill on the subject vetoed by government, largely on the ground that a government bill was under study. This was quickly followed by a request from Mr. Butler to Sir John to work out a simple formula for determining claims for compensation, and the subsequent decision to go ahead with his proposals.

LETTER TO EDITOR

A CRITIC
The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Sir: Did the $13 increase in everyone's taxes include the increase in the Mayor's, also Aldermen's salaries for 1962?

Was it a coincidence our officials should request an increase just previous to the taxpayers' being informed of the increase in city taxes?

Sure, give them a $5,000 increase in salary. What's a million anyway? The taxpayers can stand it anytime.

Maybe the officials are trying to drive new residents away from this city.

Always the last straw that broke the camel's back.

Some Wives Like Pilots

Dear Readers: A young woman who signed herself "Feet On The Ground" wrote to ask if airline pilots cheat on their wives more than plumbers or bus drivers. She said she was in love with a pilot and wanted to marry him but she'd heard so many stories about pilots running around with airline stewardesses and other women that she was having serious second thoughts.

I told her that cheating husbands can be found in every walk of life and while some occupations offer more opportunities than others, a man's faithfulness has little to do with the way he makes his living.

My reply produced an avalanche of beautiful bouquets and bitter invective — mostly from ex-wives of pilots. The following will give you an idea of what my week has been like. From Chicago: Please tell "Feet On The Ground" to marry a man whose feet are ALSO on the ground. I married a pilot. His monkeyshines were so bizarre and beyond belief I would not attempt to relate them.

The nature of my pilot-husband's work provided him with the most impenetrable alibi in the world. He'd telephone me from "New York" to say there were mechanical difficulties and the crew would probably have to lay over. I'd call New York a few hours later to check and I'd learn the plane had left — on schedule. That lying Sandoz had telephoned me from O'Hare Airport in Chicago which is ten minutes from our house.

You seem to feel, Ann Landers, that pilots don't cheat any more than plumbers. Well, maybe you're right, but when a plumber has "mechanical difficulties" he still has to go home at night to sleep. —No Parachute.

From Baltimore: You are so right, I married a pilot. He's a third husband (younger than I am, too) and the best of the lot. Husband Number One was a physician who drank him self to death. He had affairs with nurses, patients and even the wives of his colleagues. Husband Number Two was in the hotel business. I could always "get him at the hotel," he told me. The only trouble was I never knew in which room.

My present husband flies for one of the major airlines. He's straight as an arrow and I've never been so relaxed and sure of a man as I am of him. Tell "Feet" to marry her flyer. Everything will be AOK.—Third Time Charmed.

From New Orleans: "Feet On The Ground" must have rocks in her head. If she's worried about her pilot husband playing games with the stewardesses, let me put her mind at ease.

My husband has been a captain for 12 years. Flying is a tension-building, nerve-shredding business. When a plumber makes a mistake you can call in another plumber. When a pilot makes a mistake they call in the coroner.

A pilot who has been sweating out weather and instrument landings has had a full day by the time he sets down his craft. He's not about to go out and make whoopee with the stewardesses.

From Garden Grove, California: I'm an airline hostess who is boiling mad over the letter which appeared in your column recently. Most of us are in our early 20's. The pilots are in their 40's — old enough to be our fathers. What would we want with those old Dodos? The woman who wrote that letter must be nuts. —Common Sense.

From Cleveland: I was a hostess who married the pilot. He had to divorce his wife to marry me. That was 10 years ago. Now I sit home with three children, wondering and worrying if it could happen again — to HIM I mean. —Stormy Weather.

From Minneapolis: Please tell "Feet On The Ground" that she would have nothing to worry about. The women all go for the captains. —Captain's Wife.

Canadian Accordion Teachers' Association officials gave her a choice of the trip to the Communist country or a year-long musical scholarship in Canada. Says Miss Reed, "It's a tough decision, and I haven't made up my mind yet."

Two carloads of students from Okanagan Academy, and Senior students from the other Adventist schools in the Okanagan Valley left recently for Lacombe, Alberta. They were accompanied by Principal Warren Matheson and Mrs. Matheson, and Mr. Willis Clark, Bible and Social Studies instructor.

The event was "College Day" at Canadian Union College when the seniors from the Adventist school of Western Canada are entertained at the College. Victoria Day was spent at the school where the young people became acquainted with the College teachers and students while participating in the sports and enjoying the picnic dinner by Lake Barnett.

On Tuesday the students had a foretaste of life at College. The rising bell rang at 6 a.m. There was no loitering. Breakfast was at 6:30 and morning worship at 7:00. The class bell rang at 7:30, and students had a busy morning visiting classes. The regular meeting of the Lions Ladies was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Manson, with 21 members present. Mrs. Harry Cretin, Club president, presided. One of the main topics of discussion was the forthcoming visit in June of the Kamloops Lions Ladies. It was decided that there would be a smorgasbord dinner, followed by entertainment. Mrs. Ed Duck will convene the supper and Mrs. Robert Conn and Mrs. G. V. Smith will arrange the entertainment.

The ladies were then shown the Convention Dress, modelled by Mrs. Doug Sutherland, who appeared in a red jacket, a white dress, a tuxedo hat, white shoes and white hand bag. The choice met the unanimous approval of the ladies.

junior members were enrolled. The present executive regains these figures as a challenge to be met and, if possible, surpassed.

The main object of the Art Exhibit Society is stated in its name; that is, to bring exhibits of good art (of various kinds) to Kelowna. During the past year, 24 different exhibitions or art were shown in the Public Library. This remarkable achievement was made possible largely through the annual membership fee. In addition, support may be given by a contribution as patron; or benefactor. Citizens looking to future growth of Kelowna have also contributed to the fund for a Permanent Collection of Art, which was begun in 1961, and has now reached $300.

Admission to all the exhibitions held in the Library is free to all residents of Kelowna, whether or not they are members of the Art Exhibit Society. However, special previews of important exhibitions are held, to which only members are invited. These have proved to be popular occasions, which offer the privilege of meeting the artist whose work is on display. Members also have the privilege of voting at the Annual Meeting of the Society, where an outstanding speaker on the arts is featured. This year, the invitation was accepted by Mr. Jack Shadbolt of Vancouver, an internationally recognized artist who presented an illustrated lecture of high calibre. Mr. Shadbolt's colored slides, taken during his recent study abroad, revealed the beauty of southern France, Italy and Greece.

NL, AL BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Cleveland Alone In 1st After Weekend Action

Baltimore's Jim Gentile is a lousy hitter. So says Jim Gentile.
American League pitchers have a different story and the figures seem to support the pitchers. To wit: A .309 batting average, 36 runs batted in (second in the league) and a league-leading total of 15 home runs. Gentile is unimpressed.
"I'm a lousy hitter," he said. "But I have to admit I'm a lucky one."
Lousy and -or lucky, the results are impressive. Take his last six games: 11 hits in 25 times at bat, six home runs and 11 runs batted in. He had three hits Sunday, including an 11th-inning homer, in the Orioles' 4-2 triumph over Boston Red Sox.

Cleveland Indians meanwhile, look sole possession of first place with a 5-3 triumph over Washington Senators while New York Yankees split a pair with Detroit Tigers winning the first 4-1 and losing the second 5-1. Minnesota Twins pulled within a half-game of the top with a sweep over Chicago White Sox 5-4 and 8-6. Los Angeles and Kansas City split, the Athletics topped Baltimore 12-6, the Twins downed the White Sox 4-1, the Athletics ripped the Angels 8-7 and Washington topped Cleveland 8-6.

Felipe Alou didn't throw any haymakers in that big brawl at San Francisco's Candlestick Park, but he did do some key punching where it counted—at the plate.
Alou combined with Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays, who were main eventers in the wild-swinging fight, to produce a flurry of telling hits as the Giants rapped New York's last-place Mets 7-1 and 6-5 Sunday and protected their National

Vernon, Kelowna Couple United In City Ceremony

VERNON (Staff) — The Trinity United Church, Vernon, was the scene of a pretty wedding, May 5, when Angelina Teslyk became the bride of Gerald Gondor.

The eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Teslyk, of Vernon, and the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gondor, of Kelowna, was solemnized by Rev. A. W. Dobson, before the altar banked with red roses. The guest pews were marked with red rose buds and lily-of-the-valley secured with white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin. The fully crinolined skirt was fashioned in a bouffant skirt, trimmed at the back with a large white bow. The square-cut neckline was inserted with embroidered lace, and the fitted bodice featured lily-point sleeves. Her five-tiered chapel-length veil was secured by a halo of decorative rhinestones, sequins and pearls. Her only jewelry was a single cultured pearl droplet.

To complete her outfit, the bride carried a cascade bouquet of red sweetheart roses and lily of the valley.

TWO ATTENDANTS
In matching gowns were the two attendants, Miss Betty Marshowsky, as Matron of Honor, and Miss Diane Gondor, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid.

Their street-length gowns of blue organza, featured full skirts, short cap sleeves, and a gathered round neckline, with the bodice centred with a tiny bow, and a large bow at the back of the skirt. Their headresses were whimsy of rayon bamboo covered with white rayon veil, and carried bouquets of pink carnations and lily-of-the-valley. Their only jewelry was a single cultured pearl droplet, a gift from the bride.

The flower girls were: Wendy-Lou Teslyk, sister of the bride, and Jane Popowich, of Armstrong. The flower-girls were identical in short white organza dresses featuring a large bow in the back of the skirt, and lace trimming on the dresses. Their headresses were of white and red roses, and they carried a small bouquet of red roses.

Lou Carswell and Marshall Teslyk, brother of the bride, was best man, and Leo Valouch and Mike Popowich were ushers. Church organist was Mrs. Nichol, who played "My Perfect Love," sung by Mrs. Derk.

GIVEN LACE
Receiving at the reception held at the Round-Up, the bride's mother was charming in a blue lace, two-piece sheath dress, with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses, while the groom's mother wore a green lace two-piece suit with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

bride was Dr. Hugh K. Clarke of Vernon, and Alf Grahame was Master of Ceremonies. Grace was said by Rev. A. W. Dobson. The lace covered bride's table was centred by a four tiered wedding cake, which was hand decorated by Mr. Wm. Clarke, of Kelowna. The cake was decorated with lattice work and white roses topped with a miniature bride and groom in a heart-shaped setting. The table cloth was made by the bride's mother. Red roses and glowing candles also accented the table decorations. The dinner was well enjoyed by the 300 guests attending.

TO THE FAIR
For their trip to the United States, Oregon, California and Seattle, where they attended the World's Fair, the bride donned an attractive two-piece beige suit, accented with tangerine accessories, and wore a tangerine

PRESENTATION OF THE GEORGE SUTHERLAND TROPHY TO DON PETTMAN, LEFT, MADE BY ART GORDON OF THE LEGION.

Don Pettman took top honors as the outstanding athlete at the Legion sponsored Track and Field meet held at City Park Oval Saturday.

For his outstanding performance in track events, he was awarded the coveted George Sutherland Trophy which was jointly won last year by Roger Klingspon and Dianne Hawley.

Pettman broke two of last year's records by running the 800 yard in 2 min. 11.6 sec. and the one mile race in 5 min. 11.6 sec. Last year's time for the same events were 800 yd. 2 min. 16.8 sec. and the mile, 5 min. 28.4 sec. Pettman also won the 440 yard race with a time of 56.5 sec.

18 RECORDS BROKEN

A total of 18 records were broken over last year's meet which indicates the growing interest in field and track in the Kelowna District. Special mentions must be given to Mike Brown in the Bantam (12 and 13 year division) for his outstanding performance in the high jump, Mike broke last year's record by 7 1/4 inches and the North Okanagan Zone record by 5 1/4 inches as he cleared the bar at a fantastic 5 ft. 1 1/2 inches.

Special mention must also be given to John Reiben in the Midget Division (14-15 years) and again in the high jump. This young high jumper came within one half inch of the B.C. championship as he cleared the bar at 5 feet 4 inches to tie the North Okanagan record and exceed last year's local record by 6 inches.

It became quite apparent at Saturday's meet special trophy should be given to the Pee-wee division (11 yrs. and under). A young lady by the name of Janice Odegard won all three of the events that she was allowed under regulations to enter; and in winning these three events she broke all the records set last year in the broad jump, high jump and 50 yard dash—a truly great young athlete.

Canadians Steal Show In California Contest

MODESTO, Calif. (CP)—Canadian athletes enjoyed one of their most successful weekends in United States track and field events with outstanding performances in the California relays Saturday night, highlighted by Harry Jerome's startling victory in the 100-yard dash.

Jerome, 21-year-old native of Vancouver who runs for the University of Oregon, came up with an amazing surge in the final strides to edge previously unbeaten Bob Hayes of Florida A. and M. Jerome was clocked in 9.3 seconds, a tenth of a second off the world record set by Frank Budd of the U.S. last year and equalled by Hayes this season.

Bruce Kidd of Toronto captured the two-mile run with the second-fastest time ever recorded in the U.S. He covered the distance in 8:41.9, a meet record. Murray Halberg of New Zealand had a slightly faster time at Stanford University last year.

Other Canadians who gave good accounts of themselves included Vic Reeve of Vancouver, Dave Steen of Burnaby, B.C., Bill Crothers of Toronto and Bill Kozar of Dunnville, Ont.

RESULT IN DISPUTE

In the Jerome - Hayes duel there was a dispute over who finished first. Some observers figured Hayes nipped Jerome at the wire, but the timers didn't see it that way. Hayes was clocked in 9.4.

It was the second time Jerome had a 9.3 clocking in an international meet. He also did it in 1961, at that time equalling the world mark. The West Coast speedster is a co-holder of the world 100-metre standard of 10 seconds.

Jerome anchored Oregon's 440-yard relay team in a race that took just 40 seconds, matching the world record time for the event around two turns. Jerome made up at least five yards on runners from the Southern California striders and Texas Southern to win going away.

Kidd, 18-year-old sensation from the University of Toronto, finished well in front of Reeve in the two-mile run. Reeve, attending the University of Oregon, was timed in 8:47.1. It was the first time Canadian stars placed one-two in a major U.S. meet.

Although he finished in third place, Steen became the first Canadian to heave the shot more than 59 feet. His top throw here was 59 feet, one-quarter inch.

Ohlmann teamed up with Deyrol Burleson, top miler in the U.S., in leading Oregon's two-mile relay team to a National Collegiate Athletic Association record of 7:22.2.

A Closer Look At Our Own Olympic Athletes

By DAVE SHEPHERD

A lot has been said and written about the amateur standing of Olympic athletes.

We'll just add a few words of our own to the growing list by saying, first of all, that a good look at the definitions of "amateur" and "professional" could clear up many of the arguments in this regard.

The word "amateur" in the dictionary, is defined as "a person who does something for the pleasure of it rather than for money."

The word "professional" on the other hand is defined as "making some activity not usually followed for gain, such as a sport, the source of one's livelihood."

Now this should settle an argument once and for all about amateur standings or lack of same.

Unfortunately it doesn't.

It is a well-known fact that Olympic hockey players get paid.

You can search, stretch, pervert, excuse or argue until you're blue in the face, but you can't convince us that these people are amateurs.

It is far such loose definitions of truth that the present arguments about amateurism and professionalism are so rampant.

Sport costs money, it is true. Equipment costs money. The transportation of athletes, their diet while competing and their accommodation costs money.

And, we too would even stretch "amateur" to the extent where we would allow some spending money for touring in countries visited.

But this and salaries — never.

So where does one draw the line?

Might we suggest a return to truthful assessment of all factors and their inclusion into the rules of amateur sport.

There are those realistic enough to say if such were the case Canada would be out of the world hockey picture.

Unfortunately in this day and age, this is true. But at least they would be able to say, "I'm an amateur."

Which is more than they can do at present.

JUVENILE BOYS 16 AND 17 100 yard dash—Gary Shantz, Winfield—11.7 sec.

880 yard dash—Ron Bilquist, Winfield—2:16.1 sec.

EX-KELOWNA BOY WINS TRAIL (CP)—Bob Yard of Trail vaulted 12-foot 10 1/2 inches at a weekend track meet here to break the senior interscholastic pole vault record.

Yard is formerly of Kelowna. The previous mark of 12-feet 3-inches was set by S. Frid in Toronto in 1936.

A brisk side wind had no effect on Yard's vault at the annual West Kootenay track meet here Saturday. Yard cleared the bar at 12-feet 10 1/2 in his final leap. He failed in attempts to go higher.

Yard has cleared 12-foot nine inches during practice sessions with his coach Willie Krause.

WITHDRAWAL SOUGHT DAUPHIN, Man. (CP)—The Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League has granted Dauphin Minto's permission to withdraw from the league. The sponsors of the team, the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League must approve.

Rival Party Members Clash At N.S. Meeting

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—Accusations and counter-accusations followed a demonstration here Saturday night that forced a Progressive Conservative rally to change its place of meeting.

A few people got by a dozen or more demonstrators in front of a union hall where the meeting was scheduled. More turned away apparently to avoid a disturbance. The rally was subsequently held in Conservative party headquarters here.

Donald Gillis of Sudbury, Ont., a former Cape Bretoner and PC candidate for the Ontario riding of Nickel Belt, was to speak to the meeting on behalf of Donald MacInnis, Conservative candidate in Cape Breton South.

Mr. Gillis said one of the demonstrators grabbed him by the arm to keep him from entering. But he eluded his way past. He said "about a dozen of them, who gave every indication of being New Democratic Party supporters," tried to keep him and Mr. MacInnis out.

"I would say the majority were wearing NDP stickers or buttons," he said in an interview. He saw some of the group getting out of a car with NDP stickers on it.

CHARGE PROVOCATION

The NDP Sunday night officially denied that it had anything to do with the disturbance but charged that "no doubt the Conservatives were aware of the fact that such a disturbance was likely when they planned the political meeting for the Steelworkers' union hall and we can only assume that they wanted this disturbance to occur for their own political reasons."

The Cape Breton South NDP Association said in a statement that many of the unemployed are NDP supporters "and this explains why some of the cars would be bearing New Democratic Party stickers."

Saturday night a spokesman for the NDP provincial committee commented in Halifax: "For the Conservative party to bring their candidate — who is a Mrs. Lavinia Tildesley — said the Gillis from Cape Breton and a dog will have to be destroyed if labor man is nothing less than no cure is found."

BRITISH BRIEFS

'REGAINS' HEARING

FALKIRK, Scotland (AP) — Deaf since birth, Mrs. Sarah Sutherland, 42, claimed today she began hearing after a dream. "It was just an ordinary dream," she said. "I dreamed I was talking to someone and then I woke up and I could hear sounds in the house. I do not know what happened. I cannot explain it."

SAVED EXPENSE

LONDON (CP) — Eric Banfield's surname had been printed on 12,000 election addresses and poll cards when he had to withdraw from the Fulham civic election because of illness. The Labor party avoided a heavy reprinting bill when someone persuaded Frank Banfield to stand at the last minute.

LOVES EGGS

WOKINGHAM, England (CP) — Berkshire farmer Arthur Earley wonders how you teach a dog not to suck eggs. A neighbor's dog has been raiding his hen houses and eating about 40 eggs a week. The dog's owner, Mrs. Lavinia Tildesley, said the dog will have to be destroyed if no cure is found.

Crime Probe Gets Close To Tussle With Big Guns

TORONTO (CP) — After weeks of tuning up, the royal commission on Ontario crime is getting close to coming to grips personally with the two figures overshadowing the province's organized gambling business.

As the commission now in a week's recess, prospects are that Joseph McDermott and Vincent Feeley will be called some time during the following week to confront a long string of allegations that include buying policemen and politicians. So far, alleged henchmen have industriously denied accusations of illegal links with the pair.

The McDermott-Feeley trademark continues to bob up at every turn of the evidence and appeared again Friday in a variety of contexts.

From their lawyer, the commission heard that it was only in the last few days that the gambling kingpins became convinced that a couple of former policemen suspected of being gambler tipsters were not actually undercover men on the trail of the pair.

WITNESSES GRILLED

The former policemen—Carmen Lawrence and Kenneth Lamorie—have undergone a cross-examination hammering before the commission for several days, steadfastly denying earlier police evidence that they sold out to McDermott and Feeley before resigning while under suspicion in 1960.

Walton C. Rose, the gamblers' lawyer, told the commission that up until three weeks ago the pair thought the resignations were fakery and that Lawrence and Lamorie were still secretly on the Ontario Provincial Police payroll. Apparently, the roughing the officers got before the commission convinced them.

McDermott, Feeley and Robert J. Wright, allegedly in their pay while an OPP anti-gambling squad constable in 1960, were acquitted last year of conspiracy to bribe another officer. Wright and the gambling pair were convicted this year of obtaining police information illegally on evidence of Const. George Scott, who acted as a double agent on behalf of the force, and whose accusations this week were denied by Wright, Lamorie and Lawrence. The three convicted men are on bail during appeal. No charges have been lodged against Lamorie and Lawrence.

TALKED TO GAMBLERS

While denying any wrongful associations with gamblers, Lawrence and Lamorie admitted Friday that since their resignations they have been in touch a number of times with Sammy Balsam, Niagara Peninsula bookmaker and alleged protection dispenser in that area on behalf of McDermott and Feeley.

Lawrence also testified to meeting Roy Petrechanko, a Thorold bookie also alleged by Scott to have paid off the police suspects for raid tips.

Both witnesses denied suggestions that they had got together with the two minor gamblers—also under commission subpoena—to concoct tallies for the inquiry.

Lamorie, warned by commissioner Mr. Justice W. D. Roach, to be careful of perjury, said he had seen Balsam just out of "curiosity."

Earlier in the week, Wright entered a blanket denial of wrongdoing and a point-by-point denial to a long list of indictments levelled by Scott after months of posing as a crooked officer.

He maintained a steadfastly that, while dealing with Scott on one hand and McDermott on the other, he was conducting a personal "investigation" to track down leakages of OPP gambling raid information. He maintained he had passed on no police tips to the gamblers.

But OPP officers produced evidence purporting to trace a series of deliberately planted tips from Scott in Toronto to Wright in Belleville to McDermott in Port Credit to a McDermott-Feeley club in Niagara Falls, using long distance telephone records.

OFFICIALS COOL

DUNEDIN, N.Z. (CP) — The government has declined to make a grant to send New Zealand to the Miss World contest, J. R. Marshall, minister of overseas trade, said. "I regret I have no money available that I could justifiably use for so glamorous a gesture. I feel that the promoting of beauty contests must remain the privilege and pleasure of private enterprise."

Few Buying UN Bonds

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — To date less than a third of the 104 member countries to the United Nations have joined U Thant's "let's buy a UN bond" club.

Thirty-one member countries and three non-members have purchased—or have promised to purchase—the $200,000,000 bond issue. The figure does not include the United States, which is expected to account for $100,000,000 worth. Congress has yet to ratify the U.S. pledge.

While the acting secretary-general still seems confident the bond issue will be sold out, some UN diplomats are not so sure. They say that even with the United States buying half the bond issue the best Thant can hope for is a total sale to governments of $175,000,000 to $180,000,000.

Thant can offer the 25-year, two-per cent interest bonds to non-profit institutions such as private charitable foundations, but he has not yet made any move in that direction.

None of the Communist-bloc countries have bought any of the bonds, since they opposed the bond issue. France, which refused to pay any assessments for the Congo operation, also is keeping its pocketbook shut.

Four Firemen Overcome In Shopping Centre Fire

QUEBEC (CP) — Four firemen were overcome by smoke Sunday night in battling a blaze that swept a big shopping centre in suburban Ste. Foye.

An official said damages may reach as high as $2,500,000. For a time there was fear of an explosion.

Paint and naphtha were stored in the basement of one of the establishments.

But firemen chopped holes through the roof of the building and were able to play their hoses directly into the basement, eliminating the danger.

SMOKE HITS THREE

Marcel Ferland, chief of the Ste. Foye fire department, was among those who suffered smoke poisoning. He was taken to hospital for treatment.

Three of his men were revived on the scene after being overcome. Another fireman needed treatment for a cut face.

The fire was still smouldering at 6 a.m. EDT today but there was no danger of further damage.

Flames destroyed a supermarket and a hardware store. Extensively damaged were a drug store, appliance shop, a branch of the Bank of Montreal, beauty parlor and clothing store.

The 42-shop centre is one of the largest in Quebec.

Pearson On Last Swing Of Prairies, And West

OTTAWA (CP) — Liberal Leader Pearson flies west today on his last big swing of the Prairies, far north, and west coast before the June 18 general election.

He is scheduled to speak at major rallies in Winnipeg tonight, and in Edmonton and Vancouver later in the week. His tour also includes North Battleford, Sask., Whitehorse, Yukon, and Prince George, B.C.

On his return to Ottawa next weekend he will go to Brockville, Ont., for a meeting designed to bolster Liberal chances of retaining hard-fought Leeds constituency, which has a tradition as a Conservative riding but elected Liberal John Matheson in a byelection last year.

In the final two weeks of the campaign Mr. Pearson will concentrate on the Maritimes and southwestern Ontario.

He spent the weekend quietly after last week's intensive tour of eastern and northern Ontario, including a major address in his own riding of Algoma East at the hard-pressed uranium mining community of Elliot Lake.

CLAIMS LIBERAL SWING

Mr. Pearson received enthusiastic reports from his campaign organizers on his Ontario pilgrimage. The party arranged for periodic public opinion polls, and the Liberal leader claimed Friday he has received encouraging news of a swing to the Liberal party across the country.

Mr. Pearson has also said he

'Quints' Now 28

MONTREAL (CP)—The four surviving Dionne quintuplets, 28 today, celebrated their birthday early this year.

The three married quints—Annette, Cecile and Marie—gathered Friday night at the St. Bruno, Que., home of Annette, Mrs. Germain Allard, to exchange presents.

The gathering was arranged early because Cecile, Mrs. Philippe Langlois of Quebec City, was visiting in St. Bruno. She returned home during the week end.

Marie, Mrs. Florian Houle, is expecting a baby in June and she and her husband planned a quiet evening at his sister's, Mrs. George Rouse.

The three married quints earlier exchanged birthday cards with Yvonne, a postulant at the convent of the Little Franciscan Sisters in Baie St. Paul, Que. She joined the order last August.

The fifth quint, Emilie, was 20 when she died in August, 1954, of suffocation during an epileptic seizure. At the time she was a postulant with a lay order of nuns in Ste. Agathe, Que.

$13,000 AWARD

VANCOUVER (CP)—An out-of-court settlement of $13,652 was approved in the B.C. Supreme Court Friday in an action by 17-year-old Bastian Marcus Ippel against Smithers School Board in connection with an explosion May 13, 1959, during a science class he was attending. The mishap cost Ippel the sight of one eye.

Gaps Not Any Closer At Economic Summit

NEW YORK (AP)—Business, labor and government held an unusual economic summit meeting this week but the gulfs between them weren't visibly narrowed.

The government was taken to task for what business considers its anti-profit attitude. Labor and business renewed their old arguments.

On other fronts, representatives of the steel, automobile and oil industries got in their licks against the government's price-holding stand.

President Kennedy told the Business Conference at its outset that industry and labor should co-operate in raising production to increase the benefits which workers, management and stockholders can share.

MEANY RAPS BUSINESS

But, for instance, president George Meany of the AFL-CIO contended that business was resisting government programs which would create new jobs, and failing to support free collective bargaining. J. Ward Keener, president of B. F. Goodrich Co., called the administration's guidelines for non-inflation wage bargaining "impractical and unwise."

stiff blows to the chin as selling ballooned. Prices fell to their lowest level in 18 months. Brokers said stockowners were disturbed by the prolonged decline and were leaping in to salvage profits or avoid further loss.

The automobile industry rolled along as the brightest spot in the economy, building an estimated 154,000 passenger cars this week, compared with 153,110 last week and 129,142 a year ago.

Car sales for the middle 10 days of May were the best for the period since 1955. The total of 191,344 U.S.-made cars exceeded the level of a year earlier by 25 per cent.

Steel production last week sagged for the seventh consecutive week with output totalling 1,662,000 tons, off 5.8 per cent from the preceding week. Some producers were absorbing freight charges in an effort to cultivate orders from distant customers.

The cost of living rose to a record level in April for the third consecutive month. The government's index advanced two-tenths of one per cent to 105.2 per cent of the 1957-59 average.
